Jordan's Principle

Amanda Logan

Koolamalsi,

It is a great honour to introduce myself as your new Jordan's Principle Navigator. My role is to ensure every child in Eelunaapeewi Lahkeewiit has access to the services and supports they need to thrive - whether it's health, education, or social services.

Jordan's Principle is about putting our children first and ensuring they get the care they deserve without delay. I am here to listen, support, and help you navigate through any challenges, so that no child is left without the services they are entitled to.

I look forward to working closely with you all, learning from you, and being part of our community's efforts to ensure every child has the opportunity to grow and succeed.

Language Prize

The Audrey Wearn Language Prize

SOCIAL MEDIA/EMAIL TEMPLATE

Available Images attached to initial email*

The 2024 Audrey Wearn Language Prize is officially open for applications!

Are you passionate about languages? Do you believe in the power of true, meaningful communication to inspire change? Would $10,000 help your ideas come to life?

Collectively, we are in the midst of a communication crisis and Future Design School wants YOUR help to solve it.

We're looking for passionate youth (aged 16+) who want to solve a language-based challenge in their community. This could be anything - from arranging community learning events to prevent the loss of traditional languages, to creating an afterschool program assisting busy working parents helping their children learn to read - the sky's the limit!

The winner of the Audrey Wearn Language Prize will receive up to $10,000 and the ongoing support of Future Design School to make their project come to life.

We're ready when you are! Applications are NOW open until October 28th, 2024. Check out our online application form or show us your creativity by applying through video, visual presentations, podcast recordings, or whatever else you can think of to demonstrate your passion for language-based change.

Apply today and help YOUR community raise their voice →

The Audrey Wearn Language Prize

MISSION

The Audrey Wearn Language Prize was created under the mission to encourage youth ages 16+ to solve a language based challenge in their community, devising a solution that is measurable, transferable and scalable. The legacy prize honours Audrey Wearn, seeking to advance her enduring commitment to the ongoing recognition, protection and support of multilingualism in Canada.

Prize recipient(s) will receive consultation and support from the Future Design School team along with up to $10,000 to advance their proposal into a viable and implementable solution, building a vital cultural legacy in local communities.

THE AUDREY WEARN LEGACY

This prize honours the life and legacy of Audrey Wearn, championing her enduring commitment to the ongoing recognition, protection, and support of language learning in Canadian youth.

A firm believer in the positive and long-lasting impact of bilingual education, Audrey Wearn hoped to empower the next generation of Canadians both personally and professionally to design solutions that make language learning accessible, dynamic, and reflective of the diverse voices that shape our communities.

At age 17, Audrey attended Western University's French Immersion School in Trois-Pistoles, Quebec. Through this 6-week program, she became fully immersed in French language studies - an experience that ultimately would shape the path of both her personal and professional life.

"What I got out of learning another language and living it was a whole new perspective on the world. It expanded my horizons, my thinking and my interests, my understanding of who I was and my own heritage"

Audrey later attended McGill University, where she double majored as a French and English student, with notable career highlights as a Communications Officer in the Federal Government; FSL editor, and publisher of math and FSL programs at Pearson Education, Nelson Education, and Apple. Language learning was central to Audrey's life work, seeking to empower individuals with the knowledge and skills to embrace different perspectives, broaden ideas of culture and language, and inspire human connection.

"Learning a second language changed my life trajectory and enriched me, so much on so many levels."

What's in a cigarette?

SMARTER
than smoking

Cigarette smoke contains over 4000 chemicals that harm your body. Some of these chemicals are also found in car exhaust and around the home. The chemicals found around your house are safe when used properly but not when breathed into your body through a cigarette. Find 12 of these chemicals in the word sleuth below.
